DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Claims 23-40 are pending. Claims 23, 36, and 37 have been amended in this communication filed 02/11/04 entered as Amendment E, paper no. 27.
2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 23-40 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
3. As a preliminary matter, Applicant is respectfully requested to note the Examiner prosecuting the application has changed. All future correspondence should be addressed to Examiner Colbert.

Abstract Objection

4. The Abstract of the disclosure is objected to for the following reason: Applicant's Abstract is more than 150 words in length.

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Election/Restrictions

5. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

Art Unit: 3624

- I. Claims 23-35 and 38, drawn to processing data in an IC card, classified in class 235, subclass 492.
- II. Claims 36, 37, 39, and 40, drawn to entering data from a first external device, classified in class 235, subclass 472.01.

6. Inventions Group I and Group II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention Group I has separate utility such as a data processor for processing data and a communication circuit for transferring money data and Group II has separate utility such as an input device for entering data and a second path connecting the data processor of the second terminal device through the light emitting device and the light receiving device. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II it is for these reasons restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

9. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3624

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
